Harbec Inc. has received a 2012 Manufacturing Leadership 100 Award in sustainability for its environmentally friendly manufacturing processes.

The Ontario, Wayne County, firm was selected based on its ability to implement projects that demonstrate it has embraced manufacturing processes that are non-polluting, conserve energy and natural resources, and are economically sound and safe for employees, communities and consumers.

The award is from New York City-based Manufacturing Executive, a unit of Thomas Publishing LLC, which is built around two core groups: The Manufacturing Leadership Council and the Manufacturing Executive Online Group.

“This expression of recognition will provide credibility to our efforts and help to heighten the awareness of other manufacturers,” said Robert Bechtold, Harbec’s owner and president, in a statement. “Harbec will continue to peruse sustainable practices and technology, meanwhile improving its environmental footprint at no added cost to its customers”

Harbec makes prototypes, tooling, machined components and injection molded parts.
